The Attempts to Create A Community Center on Longboat Key

- 1950 The Art Center was the town's community center with concerts, plays, speakers, dances, movies and a Gay Nineties Review.
- 1960 Recreation Center activities centered around a building at the present location at mid-key since demolished.
- 1976 The commission was approached to create a Recreation Committee. The matter was discussed and referred to the P&Z Board for inclusion in the comprehensive plan where it died.
- 1980 Dr. Wm. Carter headed a group advocating a community center on present day Durante Park with plans and a model. Opponents headed by PIC and a majority of commissioners cited alleged open space restrictions and alleged prohibition of active recreational activities.
- 1981 Frances F. Mayers, president of the LBK Historical Society, wrote the LBK commissioners requesting that one acre of ground on Ansel north property (Durante Park) be reserved for the Historical Society to build a small building at its own expense. The purpose was to house and display its collection of LBK memorabilia. Request was repeatedly ignored.
- 1982 The transfer of density ordinance was approved creating what is now Durante Park. The vote was 4-3.

The Sarasota YMCA offered to build a community center on LBK and staff it at no cost to the town. Commissioners Chuch Brown and Henry Gally volunteered to man the bulldozers. The YMCA offer was refused.

The LBK Chamber of Commerce voted to back a community center and to mail out a questionnaire to see if there was a need for it.

- 1984 The Chamber of Commerce mailed out 5,332 copies of a 16 page questionnaire asking if there was a need for a community center on LBK. The response was 62 % in favor.
- 1986 Town Counsel David Perrson, Town Manager Griff Roberts and Town Planner Dan Gaffney spell out the ways the town can create a community center on Durante property in a memo dated May 6, 1996
- 1988 The Recreation Center was in financial trouble.
- 1989 Town engages a local advertising agency to prepare and send out a questionnaire on the need for a community center.
- 1993 LBK resident Leslie Weller offers the town $500,000 to build a community center. The offer is referred to a committee and dies.
- 1994 Town takes over the operation of the Recreation Center.
- 1995 Leslie Weller dies. In his will he donates $500,000 to the LBK Art Center provided it includes a community center.
- 1996 The Art Center changes its name to The LBK Center for the Arts. The Cultural Community Center Board includes Bob Wagner, president; Earl Pollack, vice-president; Walter Serwatka, treasurer, Pat Metz , secretary, Andy Frank, Ralph Hunter, Richard Levin, Perry Monroe, Marg Rubinow and Ginny McArdle. The board obtained a 501-C-3 designation and came up with its recommendations after many meetings.

The center would be privately owned, financed and operated and located on 2.5 acres of Durante Park. The plans were presented to the town Commission which refused to vote on it and asked for a town referendum. The idea of a community center on LBK was killed.

2003 The town commission appoints a community center committee which meets for the first time on June 20.

COMMUNITY CENTER SURVEY ANALYSIS
Draft April 11, 1984

I. INTRODUCTION

"For several years, Longboat Key has considered the development of community facilities to fulfill the social, cultural and recreational needs of its citizens."

This statement introduced an opinion survey distributed June, 1983 by your Longboat Key Chamber of Commerce. We felt that the issue, which dates back to 19__ and proposed often in the years following, should be addressed in an objective manner to learn the actual needs and desires of our community.

The outcome of the survey would determine whether we should proceed further and develop a realistic feasibility study. The survey was therefore designed to not only tell us if the people wanted a "community center" but also to yield specific source data for a feasibility study.

The path we followed began with a series of simple questions which were then posed in questionnaire type survey. These questions are:

- A. Does Longboat Key need a community center?
- B. Do the people prefer a private, semi-public or publicly built and operated facility?
- C. What services (and therefore facilities) would be required to meet the expressed needs?
- D. Is this facility economically feasible.

II. RESPONSES

(Enter here the number mailed, returned, statistical validity. Include housing type and distribution shown in question 8)

III. ANALYSIS

With validity confirmed, we can answer the four questions listed above.

A. DOES LONGBOAT KEY NEED A COMMUNITY CENTER?

Questions 5, 10, 1, 2 and 8 measure the response from several viewpoints.

Question 5 asks whether a community center would make Longboat a "better place to live". 780 said yes out of 1,245, a 63% positive answer.

Question 11 is a "check" question that verifies the response to question 5 by polling opinion on the adequacy of "community center" type facilities. Note, the question was posed with a negative answer indicating approval. This is the "check" against question 5. 51% of all responses said no, facilities are not adequate. The overall response to this four answer question is less favorable than that of question 5 and not committal either for or against. This is expected due to asking a question in a negative format. The results therefore correlates with question 5.

When the subquestions are reviewed, one notes the recreation, social gatherings and meetings consistently ranked in the mid 40 percentages indicating these facilities are wanted by slightly less than one half the respondents. Cultural events tallied at 63%, however, indicating strong approval for this type of center.

Question 1 checks against questions 2 and 5. 62% of all responses were favorable. Again cultural activities were the most popular with 71% favorable. Social and educational followed with 64%. Recreational/ exercise was next with a still positive 56%. It's important to keep in focus that this part of the analysis measures positive/negative response. Questions 11 and 1 will be reviewed again to select facilities.

Question 2 verifies support for the community center concept: by indicating that nearly 1/2 would use the facility at least once weekly.

Question 8 verifies representative distribution among housing types. 66% are condominium owners, 31% single family homeowners. This 2 to 1 ratio is in line with the actual multifamily/single family ration presently on Longboat.

In summary, direct attitudinal questions 5, 11 and 1 favor a community center with a preference to cultural activities by 2/3 of respondents. Questions 2 and 8 verify the response validity by showing strong intentions to use the center and representing accurately housing types on the island.

B. DO THE PEOPLE PREFER A PRIVATE, SEMI-PUBLIC OR PUBLICLY BUILT AND OPERATED FACILITY.

A clear majority of 54% prefer a private facility. Only 14% want the town to handle the center. Nearly 1/3, however, approve of a publicly built facility supported by dues. Almost 1/2 therefore support at least some town involvement. This suggests the opportunity to request some assistance from the town.

C. WHAT SERVICES (AND THEREFORE FACILITIES) WOULD BE REQUIRED TO MEET EXPRESSED NEEDS?

Questions 1, 11, 8 and 9 provide direct information.

Questions 1 and 11 taken together provide a comprehensive answer that verifies itself as noted in "A" above. Since culture ranks high (71% and 63% respectively) and social and community meetings rank lower (64%, 47% and 45% respectively), a large multi-use room is required.

Seating can be estimated as follows:

1. 23% responded therefore total population is 4.3 times the responses.

2. The average household is in residence 60% of the year (weighted average question 7).

3. The average household size is the total answers in question 6 divided by the number of surveys returned: 2.5 persons.

1,000 uses weekly (question 2) X 2/3 positive responses for this activity X 4.3 for total population X 60% residence factor X 2.5 household size = 4,320 weekly attendance.

If 8 "events" weekly are scheduled, seating for 550 is suggested. This figure is conservative since seasonality is not considered.

Within this large room, certain features are required: movable walls, stage, audio visual equipment, good accoustics, zoned heating and cooling, zoned lighting, etc.

Recreational facilities are more difficult to estimate. We can easily select those 6 over 50% response: Tennis, enclosed swimming pool, exercise rooms, racquet ball/handball, supervised cardiac exercise, nature trail.

To determine usage and therefore facilities sizing, the same type of formula as above may be applied.

1. a factor of 4.3 for total population
2. residence time of 60%
3. 2.5 persons household size
4. 46 annual visits by respondent (from question 2)
5. estimated use of individual facility per visit of 20%

Multiply factors 1 through 5, divide by 365 for a daily rate of 0.16. Multiply this factor times the number of positive responses.

USAGE PER DAY:

Tennis	545	X	.16	=	87
Pool	388	X	.16	=	62
Exercise Room	550	X	.16	=	88
Racquet Ball/Handball	372	X	.16	=	60
Supervised Cardiac Exercise	548	X	.16	=	88
Nature Trail	391	X	.16	=	63

LONGBOAT KEY, FLORIDA

December 17, 1982

Dear Chamber Member,

As you know, your Chamber of Commerce has elected to sponsor the development of a Longboat Key Community Center.

The steering committee for this project will need the help and engery, not only of every Chamber member, but every organization and resident of Longboat Key. This project, as with any betterment for a community, will benefit every business and property owner on the Island.

We now have a written "Strategy & Development Plan" which has been put into action. Some of the activities in the Plan relate to the following:

1. Surveys & Polling re: residents opinions, attitudes, portential support, activities and programs desired, etc.
2. Research re: other successful facilities, their organizations, operations, costs, programs, etc.
3. Legal re: locations, land acquisitions, public & private corporations, tax consequences, liabilities, etc.
4. Facility Planning re: uses, programs, building and site concept drawings, cost analysis, etc.
5. Marketing re: development & distribution of educational materials, publicity, public relations, etc.
6. Financial re: sources of funding for preliminary development cost, actual building and furnishing costs, etc.

All of this activity requires financing. It will demand resources larger than those available through the Chamber. In an effort to raise some start-up funds, we are appealing to all members of the Chamber for help, with a donation of only $10.00 from every member, we could be well on our way to financing the first phase of this undertaking.

TO: Cultural Community Center Feasibility Study Committee
FROM: Griff Roberts, Town Manager
SUBJECT: Process for Utilizing Durante Park Site

Pursuant to the Town Commission's request following your presentation at the April 18th Workshop meeting, Town staff and I have developed the attached report identifying the various steps in the process for utilizing the Durante Park property.

Virtually each of these steps have their own protocol requiring appropriate advertising for public hearings, public hearings by both the Planning & Zoning Board and Town Commission, and in the case of the Comprehensive Plan processing to the State Department of Community Affairs for their review and approval.

While the attached report has been distributed to the Town Commission, I do not anticipate an action by them until such time as the Feasibility Committee has obtained the Art Center's affirmative vote to request the Durante Park property for the location of the new cultural community center.

Please advise if you have any questions about this report.

SUBJECT: Utilization of Durante Park Site for a Cultural Community Center

This is in response to your request for staff and I to identify the procedural steps necessary to utilize the subject property for a cultural community center.

Town Attorney David Persson, PZB Director Dan Gaffney, and I have reviewed this matter and we offer the following as necessary steps to accomplish the process:

- (1) Amend the Comprehensive Plan to modify the Future Land Use Map.
- (2) Amend the Zoning Code and Zoning Map as necessary to implement the amended Comprehensive Plan.
- (3) Rezone the Durante Park property from OS (Open Space) to INS (Institutional).
- (4) Although the property was not acquired with land acquisition funds and therefore there is no requirement that other property be added to the Open Space inventory, we strongly recommend a rezoning of other property to OS of an amount equal to or greater than Durante Park.
- (5) Amend the Outline Development Plan for Park Shore (presently the Water Club, Resolution 81-08) which conveyed the property to the Town.
- (6) Modify the agreement with James P. Durante for utilization of the property.
- (7) Amend the existing site plan for Durante Park.
- (8) Obtain a special exception to construct the Cultural Community Center facility. (Non-profit cultural centers are allowed in the INS district by special exception.)

Additionally, staff is recommending that if the Town proceeds with the Comp Plan, that it be done in conjunction with the current five-year update to the plan, which amendments should be complete by March 1997.

BAYFRONT PARK

Lot Size 4.65 Acres=150 ft. of present Bayfront Zoning C-1.
Lot coverage @ 30% rule-55,800 Sq. ft. for ground floor.
Two stories above base flood elevation.

POOLS are considered lot coverage-should be less than 6 inches above finished grade.

Maximum lot open space 20%.
80% lot coverage would include parking.

PARKING depends on configuration.

Recreational one space per 200square feet.
Pool one per 200 sq. ft. of pool area.
Theatre Audience one per three seats.
One per employee on longest shift.
Bicycle racks-nothing in code-No break for that.
These figures compiled with the helpful assistance of Jill Jeglie.

BAYFRONT PARK This data compiled with the aid of Mark Lithwiler.
Bayfront Park is a division of municipal recreation for Sarasota and Bradenton counties.
We currently receive FRDAP (Florida Recreation Development Assistance Program) grant money. The program is part of Environmental Protection Division of Parks and Recreation helping to assist our funding.

There was a pier adjacent to the Rec Center in the past. The Town currently has plans for a new pier but is experiencing delays from the State. This will be used for kayaking and canoeing.

The ball field is 300 x 300 sq. ft. We offer softball for seniors. They pay to groom the field. Expenses are also offset by visiting teams who come on a regular basis from Northern Cities. These are not professionals but regular guys who enjoy playing together. Their Winter Getaway brings tourists and revenue to the Town for a week each year.

Currently the maximum comfortable number of persons in the upstairs room by Mark's estimate is 100. We own 150 chairs. The room can be rented for parties, weddings, meetings, etc. Proposed Rental Fee Schedule was considered for the Year 2000/2001 and is as follows:

Children's Party-Children under 10	$55.00
Youth Party	80.00
Graduation Party	165.00
Lecture, Workshop	100.00
Meeting	20.00 /hour
Wedding	220.00
Ballfield	25.00/ hour

Those using the room for events are responsible for doing a basic clean-up, must take out the trash and put everything back in place. The Town brings in a cleaning crew to do the bathrooms.

Regular cleaning by the Town currently costs $350.00 a month for two times a week. This is let out for bids.

The ball field grooming is done under contract.

The small arts and crafts room cost over $100,000.00 to build and leaks. It can host approximately 10 persons for a small meeting, 4 bridge tables and no more than 6 exercise participants and one instructor.

Some of the groups using Bayfront Park facilities for meetings are:

- Garden Club
- Historical Society
- The Longboat Flotilla of the Coast Guard Auxiliary
- The Florida Association of Condominiums
- Weight Watchers
- Safe Driving AARP
- Democratic Club
- Boat Builders Club
- High School Girls Softball tournaments
- Childrens Camp
- Easter Egg Hunt
- Exercise Classes (Sherry Fideler has enclosed a detailed report on this program).

LONGBOAT KEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Gail Loefgren, President

The Chamber requires a large meeting room to accommodate 250 and up for their gatherings. They currently use the Holiday Inn as does the Town for the Hurricane Awareness Meetings. Another example, Gail says she currently sends people/tourists to Island Fitness on Anna Maria Island when they inquire about a place to work out in a gymnasium setting. She also said Anna Maria Island and Siesta Key also hold their big meeting off island because of similar space concerns.

THEATRE AND/OR ENTERTAINMENT FACILITY

Esther Wilson and I met with Bob Trisolini of Trisolini Group Inc. Bob and his partner, Bob Nosal, are residents of Longboat Key. Bob Trisolini is a director and choreographer. Bob Nosal is assistant show director and stage manager. Together they have created award winning work on and off Broadway. In Florida, they are Creative and Show Directors for Disney Event Productions. They have done projects for Busch Gardens.

Locally the Players, Theatre Works, Asolo, Golden Apple, Florida Studio Theatre, and Van Wezel have been gifted with their talents. Bob's considerable knowledge is invaluable at this planning stage of our Community Center.

Some Remarks by Bob Trisoline:

Banyan Players currently use Sainer Pavilion but have no home after this Season.
Black Theatre Company has no permanent home.
Florida Studio Theatre for Cabaret has 100 seats.
Florida Studio Theatre has a subscription list of 15,000. Main stage seats 180.
Players holds 500
Golden Apple seats 300.
Islands Players 165.
Theatre Works 160
Van Wezel 1,700

Since all of these houses are dark a maximum of one night a week, there is an extreme shortage of rehearsal space. A regular working Theatre would require an artistic director as well as a box office and staff. We kicked around fund raising ideas such as named seats and pavers. Fund Raising dinners by invitation with cash bar. Bob named some of the existing talented theatre people on Longboat Key who could possibly be engaged for a kick-off-party.

A professional kitchen adjacent to the theatre would make dinner theatre possible. This in conjunction with a large attractive meeting room would allow table space for parties of all types.

RE-CREATION OF THE STUDY OF GEN. JIM EDMUNDSON

Currently Dr. Celia Edmundson maintains and stores at considerable cost the contents of her Father's Study. This includes furniture, books, artifacts, medals, honors conveyed, and all pertinent items of his heroic career. It is the wish of the Townspeople to honor the memory of Gen. Jim Edmundson and to maintain these items in top condition for all time. The Community Center would be an appropriate setting for this memorabilia. Perhaps a room with a Dutch door for viewing and volunteer docents for tours including school children, veterans, and all interested persons. Further the room could be used functionally to hold board meetings for the Center. As we delay, the Air Force Academy is requesting these items for their own historical display.

BRIDGE GAMES, BRIDGE LESSONS, OTHER CARD ACTIVITIES

Mr. Larry Auerbach, Duplicate Bridge Director, Longboat Key, gave me this information. During January, February, and March, there are consistently 30 tables on Tuesday (maximum number that can be accommodated with present facilities). There are 20 tables consistently on Thursdays, 13-15 Tables on Saturday.

Because of lack of space at Bayfront Park, other venues have been sought for Duplicate Bridge. This year Larry had a one-time membership card charge of $10.00 to help off-set the rental cost without having to increase the $6.00 game charge. 160 Members joined. It has become very difficult to locate adequate space for the in Season games. More games per week and more people per game could definitely increase with proper facilities. Larry has tried to get the over-flow players to go to Sarasota or Manatee for games but most refuse to leave the Key. Lessons are presently conducted at the Educational facilities. Presently he offers coffee, iced tea, cookies, and chips during the games. Saturday games would increase in number of participants if lunch could be served.

Larry would need storage space for card tables and bidding boxes. Walter May also is a Director who uses the Bayfront Recreation Center for bridge.

Hi Sherry - Esther and I have been working on the C.C. project. Could you consider these questions from your viewpoint and give some answers? Much appreciated - Thanks.
Lorraine

- a) How many participants each month of the year.
- b) Names of Aerobic and Fitness Classes
- c) How many instructors participating in program.
- d) Largest space needed to accommodate maximum number of people in class.
- e) Storage space needed in these rooms, water fountain etc., floor covering required for classes, mirrors.
- f) What Classes could be added if we had more space.
- g) Would some smaller rooms be needed for aerobics so two classes can run simultaneous (ball & Muscles & More for example.)
- h) Would it be profitable and feasible to have a first class Gym fully staffed and with up to date fine equipment. Would this attract more Men to use the Center and bring in money.
- i) What classes and uses of a swimming pool and projected number of people using it.
- j) How could rooms used for aerobic and fitness be used for other activities.

Sherry Fideler

Certified Personal Trainer, Nutrition Counselor, Aerobic & Aquatic Instructor

1. How many participants each month of the year:
 - a. Mark should have those figures in his computer. As Manager, I was asked each year for a report on how many participants were in the classes offered by the center, how often, were they full or part time, Sarasota or Manatee Counties, etc. I could not tell you how many people used the grounds.
2. Classes:
3. Instructors:
 - a. Muscles & More – Teresa Powers & Sherry Fideler
 - b. Low Impact Aerobics – Barbara Anderson
 - c. Joy of Stretching – Molly Schectner
 - d. T'ai Chi – Charlie
 - e. Pilates – Jennifer Schwindt
 - f. Boot Camp – Patti
 - g. Exercise Ball – Sherry Fideler
 - h. Yoga – Pat Crawford and Susan Goldfarb (not currently offered)
 - i. Bridge lessons – Walter May
 - j. Duplicate Bridge – Larry Auerbach
 - k. Contract Bridge – Leader varies
 - l. Senior Men's Softball League – John Cruickshank
 - m. Youth Soccer practice – Coaches vary
 - n. Little League – Coaches vary
 - o. Weight Watchers – Cookie Sterns
 - p. Model Boat Building – Norm Stewart
 - q. Summer Camp
4. Space needed:
 - a. Currently the large room upstairs is 1350 sq. ft. Muscles & More and Duplicate bridge could use twice the space. I don't know about Aerobics. I don't know the dimensions of the downstairs room. It is unfinished and will accommodate approximately 4 bridge tables and no more than 6 exercise class participants.
5. Storage, water fountain, floor covering, mirrors:
 - a. There is almost no storage currently. Fitness classes could use at one (1) 2 ½' X 6' closet for mats, and at least one (1) 2 ½' X 6' closet for equipment. Weight Watchers and Bridge could share one (1) 2 ½' X 6' closet for equipment. Summer camp could use two (2) 2 ½' X 6' closets.

- b. One water fountain inside the large and medium sized rooms is sufficient.
- c. Suspended wood floor is always the best floor covering.
- d. Mirrors on three sides of the room for exercise, but covered for Bridge, Weight Watchers, rentals, lectures, etc. Could have curtains that cover mirrors.
- e. Overhead fans
- f. Stage
- g. Good audio system, including tape deck and CD player with pitch control, and wireless microphone.

6. New classes if we had the space:

- a. Options are unlimited.

7. How many rooms:

- a. One very large room, two medium size room, two small rooms.

8. Gymnasium:

- a. Would attract more men to play basketball. Exercise equipment would not be appropriate in a gym and need constant supervision. If this is something to be added, it would be in a smaller room with mirrors and supervision.
- b. Youth sports would use the gymnasium to some degree.
- c. Summer camper would use gymnasium a lot.

9. Swimming pool:

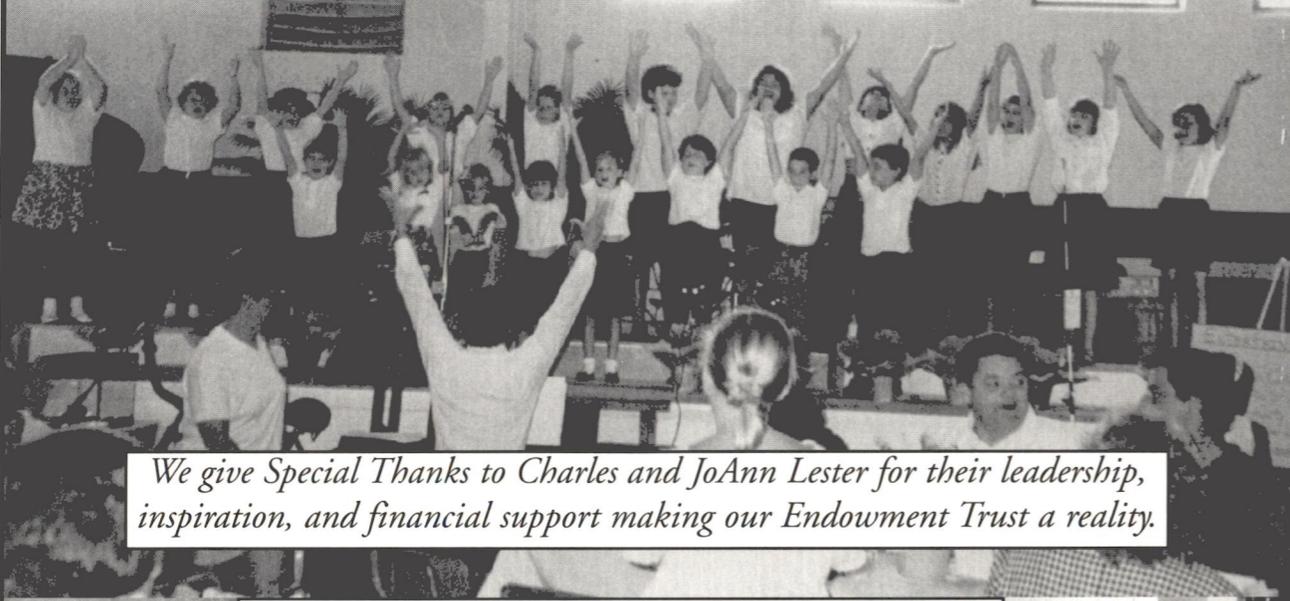

- a. Aquatic group exercise classes and open swim. I think you would find a small number using the pool for lap swimming. Classes would be popular. Maybe six to nine classes per week (deep water, shallow water, Arthritis). Lap swimming would need to be scheduled around the classes. I do think a lot of people would use the shallow water and Arthritis classes.
- b. Youth swimming classes and family open swim.
- c. Summer campers would use pool a lot.

10. Room usage:

- a. The large room could be used for exercise, Bridge, Weight Watchers, at the same time the smaller rooms could be used for exercise, Bridge, workshops, lectures, meetings.
- b. Town government could use rooms for meetings while activities being held in other rooms.

Endowment Trust Mission Statement

Our mission is to establish a permanent endowment for the benefit of the Community Center, to raise funds for the continued growth of that endowment, and to administer the funds in a prudent manner.

The Endowment Trust

The Anna Maria Island Community Center, like many organizations, works with a fluctuating cash flow. The Endowment Trust was established in 1994 to ensure stable funding. Gifts to the Anna Maria Island Community Center Endowment Trust are held under perpetual trust, which prohibits the expenditure of the principal investment. The interest income paid to the organization results in stability in both programs and staff.

How You Can Give

Planned gifts can take on many forms: Cash, Stocks, Retirement Plans, Annuities, Life Insurance and Real Estate. Many investments can be donated to the Endowment Trust either during your lifetime or by your will.

How Planned Giving Can Save You Money

While the support you provide and the personal satisfaction you gain cannot be measured in dollars and cents, charitable giving also makes good financial sense. Understanding the tax and estate implications of your gifts will enhance your current giving plan with financial benefits for you as well as the Endowment Trust of the Anna Maria Island Community Center Endowment Trust.

This is done in several ways:

1. Federal Income Taxes: Gifts to the Endowment Trust made during your lifetime are deductible for federal income tax purposes if you itemize deductions in the year the gift is made. Appreciated Securities can provide a charitable deduction while avoiding capital gains tax.

2. Federal Gift Taxes: Charitable contributions to the Endowment Trust are, with few exceptions, exempt from federal gift taxes.
3. Federal Estate Taxes: There is an estate tax deduction for charitable gifts which becomes effective at your death.

Where Does the Money Go?

The Endowment Trust funds are presently invested Government Securities. The interest provides funding to support the Community Center's programs for adults and children, including Art, Dance, Drama, Music, Basketball, Baseball, Soccer, Educational Programs, Recreational Programs, and Family Support Programs.

*Because tax laws change so frequently, it is advisable to consult with your attorney or tax advisor on the current tax implications for your plan.

Children are our future. Teaching them important values and helping them make the right decisions is a Priority.

In difficult times we need to remember what is most important and what brings us true joy - our loved ones, family, friends, neighbors and our ability to make a positive difference in our community and our world.

Your contribution to the Priorities Campaign is an investment in a 21st Century Community Center.

Your investment in this campaign is like an investment in your home. It increases the value, improves safety and security, builds community and develops a sense of family.

The long term benefits of your financial support will be a facility that is able to meet the cultural, educational, family support, recreational and social needs of your community.

There is nothing more vital than guiding children down the right path on their journey through life.

We make a living by what we get,
but we make a life by what we give.

This Campaign consists of three phases:

1. The addition of four class rooms 2000 sq ft, renovation of existing rest rooms and offices as well as a new roof.
Estimated cost $900,000.00
2. The construction of a new wheelchair accessible playground, replacement of existing bleachers and conversion of former playground into grade level parking.
Estimated cost $200,000.00
3. The construction of a new elevated 7000 sq ft Learning Center over the Converted parking places.
Estimated cost $1,400,000.00

Priorities

A hundred years from now, it will not matter what was in my bank account, the kind of house I lived in or the type of car I drove. But our community and the world may be a better place because of my commitment and support of the programs provided by Anna Maria Island Community Center and the positive difference they made in the Life of a Child.

Campaign for a 21st Century
Community Learning Center

THE NEED IS URGENT

Imagine for a moment it is raining outside and there are 82 children and five teachers in your living room.

- Six volunteers, working with children with learning disabilities, are seeking a quiet place to focus attention on math concepts, spelling and reading skills.
- In the dining room, 12 adults hold a parenting workshop with a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist. They are working to improve listening and communication skills.

Stretch your imagination a little more.

- Your enclosed patio has 30 basketball players, 20 cheerleaders, eight volunteer coaches and 62 parents and neighbors watching a game. The referee's whistle blows; the game is called off. Rain has leaked through the 20-year-old roof creating dangerous conditions on the floor.

Stretch your imagination a yet again..

- Just outside — sitting in a bus in the downpour because there is no space inside — ten adolescents and teens are making other plans because the rain has forced cancellation of their beach cleanup.
- Sadly, 65 elderly neighbors were turned away when they asked if they could meet to establish a Caregivers Support Group because there was no room.

This is a glimpse into a day in the life of the Anna Maria Island Community Center.

Last year alone your Community Center served 1200 youth and over 2500 adults in two or more programs, providing nearly two million hours of service for your community.

Every day decisions must be made on which group — children, adolescents, teens, parents or seniors — gets to use the two rooms and a gym, and who has to go home because there is simply no space or because it is raining.

ABOUT THE RENOVATION PROJECT

- What is the goal and purpose of the Priorities Campaign for a 21st Century Community Center?

1.) Phase One: This is the first major renovation project to the Community Center since 1983! It will focus on the addition of four classrooms, adding 2000 sq ft, of much needed space and the renovation of the existing office and restrooms as well as a much-needed new roof. The entrance to the facility will be reconfigured and orientated facing Palm Avenue, this reconfiguration of the entrance will provide greater access, safety and security for children, families, and seniors and will provide wheelchair access for individuals to and from the building. Estimated cost $900,000.00

2.) Phase Two: Upgrade and relocation of the playground to the area between the Little League stadium bleachers and the existing building for greater control and supervision, the replacement of the existing bleachers; and the conversion of the former playground into additional grade level parking spaces. Estimated cost $200,000.00

3.) Phase Three: On the corner of Magnolia and Crescent construction of a new 7000 square foot structure. This facility will house the Family Support Center, Teen Center, Computer Technology Center, Administration, and multi use classrooms and meeting rooms. Estimated cost $1,400,000.00

- How will the project be financed?

This exciting project will be financed by a capital campaign, entitled Priorities that will bring together the generous assistance of private donors, government and private foundation grants .

- Will there be naming opportunities within the campaign?

Yes, every phase of the renovation offers a variety of naming opportunities for example: learning centers, classrooms, computer lab, kitchen classroom, teen center, wheelchair accessible playground and new bleachers.

- What is the project's timetable?

The renovation of the Anna Maria Island Community Center is a three -phase project with the initial ground breaking for phase one scheduled December of 2003 and the entire project completed over four years.

- Who designed the project?

Over the past two years, members of the AMICC Board have hosted community forums, held strategic planning workshops and solicited input from members of the community and community leaders. These needs were compiled by the Board and were translated into initial designs by Eatman & Smith Architects.

- Will the Community Center be closed during the course of the project?

No, Phase One of the renovation project will add a 2000 sq. ft. classroom space between the gym and the tennis courts. The project is planned so as not to interfere with the Center's busy program schedule.

About the Capital Campaign

- Why Priorities?

The Anna Maria Island Community Center stands on the site of the Island's first two-room schoolhouse and is a longstanding Island landmark and link between the center and our community's children. Due to limited space, the Center has not been able to adequately meet the needs of the community, especially middle schools adolescents and teens, during the times between 3:00 and 6:00 P.M. Children, teens and seniors have always been the Center's major priorities. The renovations financed by this capital campaign will expand, improve and allow the Center to meet the community's priorities by serving the cultural, educational, family support, recreational and social needs of the communities children, teens, families and seniors. In effect, these renovations will allow the Community Center to build upon the resources and community support it has developed and continues to develop within the community supporting the future as the community grows and changes.

- When does the Priorities Campaign officially start?

The capital campaign officially begins in January 2003.

- How long will the Priorities campaign take?

The capital campaign will run concurrent to the construction/ renovation project.

We make a living by what we get,

but we make a life by what we give.

Anna Maria shows how town center works

Nearly 20 years old, the Anna Maria community center serves as a town focal point.

By Jeffrey Smart
Arts and Entertainment Editor

In The Longboat Observer's search for models for the proposed community/cultural center, we turned to the north to the Anna Maria Island Community Center. The center matches the proposed Longboat Key center, regarding the scope of educational activities and cultural/social activities.

Pierrette Kelly has been the executive director of the Anna Maria Island Community Center for seven years. The center began as a youth center in 1951. Adult programs became a larger part of its mission until, in 1978, the deteriorating facility was renamed the Island Community Center and a building campaign began. The present 10,000-square-foot building was erected in 1983. There are offices, a large community room, a small library, a gym and a kitchen.

The yearly budget is $369,000. Much of that is for full-time staff members. Three have college degrees, including early childhood development, recreation education and nursing. Additional full-time staff includes a janitor/groundskeeper. Part-time employees include counselors and a secretary/accountant. Otherwise, the budget is held in check by relying on 500 volunteers. The center has an endowment of $100,000. Funding comes from community, city and county sources, but the center must raise 60% of its budget through donations and fund-raisers.

The facility is open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays. Most of the adult programs occur between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Like Bayfront Park, the schedule fluctuates with the season. This year the center has served 1,100 children and 2,200 adults.

Besides recreational programs (which would not be included in the Longboat Key facility), activities include educational, cultural, social and family resource programs. Classes include writing to publish, health seminars (mentioned but little emphasized in the Longboat Key proposal), community seminars and the like. Cultural activities include arts and crafts, line dancing, bridge, travel and chess clubs and concerts. The Anna Maria Island Center hires area jazz and big bands for $250 to $800 for an evening, drawing 200 to 350 paid attendees. Additional groups are the Suzuki orchestra and the Anna Maria Island Orchestra and Chorus. The concerts serve as one of the center's money-makers.

Social functions include the cultural activities but also include dances and potluck suppers. Meetings bringing together leaders from area churches and synagogues take place at the center. The center also hosts an art show.

The Family Resource programs are related to health education. Support groups and lectures focus on such topics as parenting, women's and family issues, bereavement and Alzheimer's. Individualized counselling is available as well.

The Longboat committee has recently added a kitchen to its plans for the center. Kelly sees the kitchen as an invaluable asset to the center. "It brings people to the center who otherwise might not come," she says. She notes that "eating is part of our culture" and that eating is central to many functions — including cooking classes — occurring there. Additionally, fund-raising is enhanced by the presence of a kitchen.

Anna Maria also has a van that brings people to the center and takes the center programs to area sites. Transportation is "very, very important" to the goals of the center, according to Kelly.

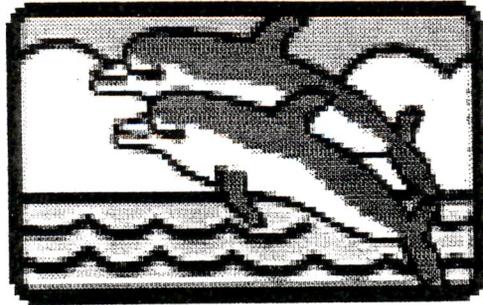

The current goal of the programs offered by the center is to match the needs identified in a community needs assessment completed at the beginning of 1995 — "an integral part of our strategic plan, which we live by," says Kelly. The survey took a year to complete and was organized and calculated by a Ph.D. in sociology. The guide surveyed the entire community (a door-to-door survey using every third or fourth door) and is used by the city and county governments, police, the fire department, local churches and other community services. Alexandra Jupin of the Van Wezel had mentioned the necessity for a needs assessment in her comments.

Kelly spends part of her time in direct service — teaching and counseling with the users of the center. The rest of the time is taken up with the duties of an executive director, including speaking to groups on the programs of the center, grant writing, budgeting, developing programs and reporting to the board of directors.

The program on Anna Maria Island affects "many, many of the residents," according to Kelly, and serves as a focal point for the inhabitants. She imagines the absence of the center would be like Bedford Falls without George Bailey in "It's A Wonderful Life."

Kelly views the project on Longboat Key as a wonderful idea, but does have one word of advice in planning the facility: Make sure there is adequate storage. □

Discussion Group
2pm-3pm

The JCCNS continues to be honored with the presence of Nordia Kay as we offer two weekly watercolor classes with one of Marblehead's most famous and talented artists. This is certainly one of our most popular class offerings.

Varied and diverse speakers continue to enlighten us through the Senior Community Forums. Breakfast with a lecture is certain to start any given Sunday off to a good start! The seniors select the speakers and prepare a marvelous breakfast full of delicious goodies for all who attend. Some of the speakers who have recently been part of the Forum series are Nancy Kaufman, Benjamin Entine, Gery Posner, Gary Band and Robert Reich.

Annual events and special activities such as the Purim Café, Lillian Goldin's Book Club, the Insight Club, the Yiddish Club, the Morris Krachman Discussion group, the Memorial Service for Fallen Jewish Servicemen, the North Shore Songsters, the Cutting Edge and much much more continue to offer seniors meaningful programs rich in tradition, culture and heritage. New programs were offered as well from a Bereavement Group to a Caregivers Support Group to intergenerational programs. Socializing with friends in the Golden Age or Friendship Club or Yiddish Clubs, enjoying stimulating discussions or laughing at a good joke...the senior adult programs stress healthy bodies and active minds, and are most of all a time to share with old and new friends.

Summer trips both day and overnight are in the planning stages as are new upcoming programs for the fall and beyond...stay tuned!

Many seniors regard the JCC as their home away from home and primary source of social and cultural enrichment. We offer van transportation as well as a hot kosher meal program that is supplemented with a generous grant by the Joseph Cadiff Charitable Foundation. It is here at the JCC on any given day, that you will see seniors gathering to talk, learn, sing, dance, and appreciate life. The senior adults involve themselves in center activities, as participants, volunteers and leaders.

We have over 200 seniors each week that participate in any or all of our many activities.

Come be a part of our diverse group and "dig in" to all that we have to offer....you deserve it!
